

Job Profiles Internetpeople – Home Office

Company profile:

The fast growing Austrian company Internetpeople (www.internetpeople.at) is specialized in homepage programming, creative web design and social media. The company's mission is to develop individual and creative solutions, adapted to their customers' needs.

Positions:

- Programmer WEB projects (small) based on TYPO 3 CMS up to 10 people
- Programmer WEB – shops up to 5 people

Field of work: telecommunications, ministries, finance, administration, car-industry

Place of work: home office

Required profile:

- Proven knowledge of the programming language related to the position
- Fluent English mandatory
- Good German language skills would be an advantage

Type of contract: per project

If you are interested in this job offer and are looking for an exciting challenge in an international environment; if you appreciate teamwork, and if you would like to take part in creating the future of a highly innovative enterprise, then you should send your comprehensive application documents in English or German to the attention of Mr. Hermann Kammerer - office@internetpeople.at, specifying the reference you are interested in.

Applications will only be accepted (in English or German), if received before June 14th, 2013.